“Jerry Barlow Performing at the Library”

A musician heard regularly on many National Public Radio Stations will soon play at the Norfolk Public Library. Jerry Barlow is an acclaimed Celtic fingerstyle guitarist who has performed at the library in the past. His concert, to be held on October 4th at 6:30 PM at the library is free to the public.

Barlow will play traditional Celtic tunes on a fingerstyle guitar while sharing the history, humor and legends behind the music.

“Jerry Barlow ... a performer who is skilled, funny and riveting. Out of the many musicians performing today, the vast majority are skilled in either performing on their instrument or in entertaining an audience. It’s very rare and extremely enjoyable to see a musician at the very top of his craft in both areas,” says Scott Beach, Director of Colorado Celtic Entertainment.

Barlow's latest CD, Fields and Fences, was released to excellent reviews and a nomination by the Independent Music Association for Instrumental Album of the Year (2011). Songs from all three of his CDs have been featured in PBS documentaries and Landlocked Films features.

Barlow has been featured in Fingerstyle Guitar magazine, and was profiled in the February, 2011, issue of Celtic Connection. He has performed in the Gates Auditorium for the University of Denver's Lamont School of Music, the Arvada Center for the Performing Arts, and is a favorite of High plains Public Radio's Living Room Concert Series in Amarillo, TX.

For more information about the concert call the Library at (402) 844-2100.
