NORFOLK ROADWAYS BECOMING DANGEROUSLY SLICK

It's almost Christmas and winter weather is starting to arrive! Norfolk public safety officials are currently working multiple accidents in and around the area.

To help keep citizens and commuters safe during their travels, the City of Norfolk Street Division is currently applying a deicing material to intersections. This will help combat the slick conditions brought on by the wintry weather that started early this morning. A wintry mix is expected throughout the rest of the day until this evening, resulting in unfavorable driving conditions.

Please drive with caution – the roadways are extremely slick! Commuters need to allow adequate time to travel to their destination and practice caution around the equipment applying the treatment.

Don't let winter weather catch you off guard! Sign up to receive free emergency alerts here:
