NEWS RELEASE

Wednesday, December 19, 2018

On 12/18/18 at 8:12 p.m., Norfolk Police officers were dispatched to a residence in the 2300 block of Skyline Avenue for a disturbance. When officers arrived, they had contact with a female resident outside of the residence that described that there was a verbal argument involving three individuals. Officers accompanied the female inside the house and had contact with Ashley R. Jessen, 32, of Norfolk. A resident of the home, along with an officer, went into a room where Jessen had been sleeping. While in the room, a glass pipe with residue was discovered. The pipe tested positive for methamphetamine. Jessen was arrested for possession of a controlled substance. In a further search, officers also recovered a clear glass jar with 17 Tramadol prescription pills. Jessen did not have a prescription of these pills. She was then arrested on a second count of possession of a controlled substance. She was housed in the Norfolk City Jail and later transferred to the Madison County Jail.
